

Call for Art

“And that is why I hate love letters”

_gaia is accepting submissions for an all woman group art exhibition titled “And that is why I hate love letters” opening November 4th, 2013 at City Hall Jersey City curated by Doris Cacoilo and Lillian Ribeiro.

What is an heirloom? Family treasures and stories link generations in a deep and personal way. What do we inherit from our ancestors? Parents? What are the legacies left to heirs? Family customs. Choices we make. The life we choose to live.

All media will be considered. Large 2-dimensional media is especially requested. The theme is open to interpretation. We hope this exhibition will serve to promote local women artists, bring women artists together in one amazing space, create dialogue and promote awareness and advocacy of women's issues.

Please submit this application (or the information requested) via e-mail with digital images of the work (jpgs ~600px wide) or links to images online by Monday, October 21, 2013. No late submissions please. Notification will be sent out via e-mail by October 23rd, 2013. For any further information e-mail us at info@gaiastudio.org

Submission Application “And that is why I hate love letters”

Deadline for submission: Monday, October 21, 2013 at midnight.

Notification of acceptance: Wednesday, October 23rd, 2013

Artwork drop off date: October 29th and 30th

Drop off at: City Hall Jersey City, 280 Grove Street, Jersey City, NJ 07302

Exhibition dates: November 4th – November 22nd

Artist reception: Tuesday, November 12th, 2013

All other details to follow.

Name:

Address:

E-mail:

Phone#:

Title/date of work:

Media and dimensions of work(s) being submitted:

Previous exhibitions with _gaia (if any):

Bio/short artist statement:

Short description of the work submitted (for inclusion in label information at the exhibition):

Please e-mail all submissions to: info@gaiastudio.org

_gaia is a collective of women artists and activists creating art, events and opportunities in the visual and media arts, performance and design. Its members actively promote and support the work of local women artists while developing programs that encourage collaboration and create community to help emerging artists in need of studio space, facilities and resources. In pursuit of raising awareness _gaia concentrates on activism, from issues in the local community and the art world to global issues affecting the lives of women.